President's Statement

Manhattan School of Music is an educational institution that values diversity and the rich variety of thought and experience it brings to our School. We strive towards building a culture of inclusiveness by supporting the recruitment and retention of a diverse workforce and by promoting an environment free from discrimination where all people are recognized and rewarded on the basis of individual performance.

Manhattan School of Music is dedicated to serving the entire School community with mutual respect, honesty, and openness. We value our coming together to work to end all forms of oppression and maintaining an environment where all are free to affirm and celebrate their differences and commonalities. Each member of the School's community has a responsibility to support a more diverse and inclusive campus environment in which to work, teach, and study.

Manhattan School of Music offers employees and students the personal opportunity to discuss the impact of the School's diversity efforts on their own lives and encourages employee and student feedback. The School strongly urges the reporting of all incidents of discrimination or harassment, regardless of the offender's identity or position in the School. Early reporting and intervention have proven to be the most effective method of resolving actual or perceived incidents of discrimination or harassment.

Concerns and complaints related to equal opportunity in employment based on aspects of diversity protected under federal, state, and local law, including harassment complaints filed by any member of the Manhattan School of Music community against any employee, as well as complaints arising under Title IX, should be directed to Carol Matos, Vice President for Administration and Human Relations. The School's various Equal Employment Opportunity policies and procedures are publicly available on the School's website, and links to those policies are also set forth at the end of this Plan in Exhibit A (page 5).

The School's current version of its affirmative action plan is posted on the website at www.msmnyc.edu/Portals/0/Affirmative%20Action%20Plan.pdf and is available for review by any community member or applicant for employment. Please contact Carol Matos, Vice President for Administration and Human Relations, for additional information.
