Class Cancellations

When a teacher cancels classes, they will both e-mail their students and let the Registrar’s Office know. The Registrar’s Office will then update the Student Website to alert students of class cancellations. Students should check the Student Website every day in order to be sure that all classes are in session.