School Closings

Manhattan School of Music will sometimes cancel classes and close administrative offices during inclement weather or other emergency situations. The building usually remains open for study and practice unless circumstances dictate otherwise. You should receive an email to your MSM email account if classes have been canceled, as well as a text from the emergency text system if you have registered for that service. The alert will also be posted on the MSM student website at students.msmnyc.edu. If you do not receive a specific announcement from Manhattan School of Music, assume classes will run as scheduled.