DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Before leaving for school each morning, I'd give my toys one final, stern reminder: "Be good, and don't make a mess." Upon returning, I would triple-check that everything was where I'd left it, convinced they were living full, dramatic lives while I was away. Children build sprawling universes for their toys—stories of love, rivalry, magic, and unrequited passion. Time warps in these worlds; a single blink can mean an hour has passed, and a nap can fast-forward the story to the next day. The rules are few, but the stakes are always high, and the problem (usually love) is urgent. The high drama thrilled me; my toys married, threw parties, fought, and adventured, generating drama fueled by secret crushes, a magic potion, and the underdog's triumph.

It is this childhood sense of urgent, high-stakes play that guides our approach to L'elisir. We meet our characters—our toys—immediately after they've been set down by their owner, still fully absorbed in their disarray and drama. They play with a child's wholehearted sincerity: a "yes, and" belief that everything they are experiencing is completely real. As these toy characters, we embrace the comic melodrama at the heart of Donizetti's opera.

Donizetti's memorable melodies evoke a longing for performances rooted in pure delight—an evening filled with vibrant designs, outstanding vocal performances, playful staging, and expertly performed music. Something fun. Yes, we could have done a traditional L'elisir, or something contemporary, perhaps leaned into the darker undertones—but haven't we had a hard enough year? This is plain fun.

Toys are extensions of ourselves; they act out our greatest fears and desires, yet they are considered instruments of youth to be discarded after a certain age. Why not use them to act out this story? For the students, this meant a freedom of physicality and play as we built the staging. Many of the funniest moments are products of their choices. Without the constraints of humans, our cast dove into the depths of imagination. My hope is that they walk away having learned a little about their own capabilities—taught by the toys they play.

Enjoy the performance, and if you see a Labubu, let me know. Mine seems to have gone missing.

SYNOPSIS

ACT I

Our toys are exhausted after a long day of play. With their child away, they gather to relax. The raggedy Nemorino is hopelessly in love with the untouchable Adina. He listens as she reads to the other toys the story of Tristan and Isolde, whose love was sparked by drinking a magic potion.

The dashing Belcore arrives with his buddies. Immediately he begins to flirt with Adina. To the surprise of all, Belcore asks Adina for her hand in marriage! She does not say yes, but she does not say no either. Nemorino takes his shot and declares his love for Adina. She kindly, but firmly, turns him down. Adina asks Nemorino to turn his attention elsewhere.

A new toy arrives! The colorful Doctor, of the Dulcamara toy company. He offers a miracle cure for every ill. Toys joyfully trade their possessions for Dulcamara's wares. As the group clears, Nemorino approaches the doctor and asks for Isolde's love potion. Dulcamara pulls out a special "elixir of love" from his bag. Nemorino drinks the entire thing and grows cheerful and more confident. When he sees Adina speaking to some of her friends, he ignores her. Adina, frustrated by the lack of attention, tells Belcore that she will marry him at the end of the week.

Just then, an officer arrives with orders that Belcore must return to active duty in the morning. The only solution? Hold the wedding tonight! Nemorino, horrified that his potion won't work in time, pleads with Adina to not go through with it. The toys celebrate the upcoming wedding while Nemorino is on the sidelines, rejected.

ACT II

The wedding festivities are in full swing! Dulcamara and Adina sing a duet to the entertainment of all, except Nemorino, who is missing. Belcore summons the lawyer to sign the wedding contract. To Belcore's disappointment, Adina delays signing.

Nemorino asks Dulcamara for another love potion. Dulcamara will happily make a trade, but does Nemorino have anything to offer? Nemorino has nothing, leaving him with no means to get another love potion. Belcore seizes the opportunity, offering Nemorino a bonus to enlist. Nemorino signs the contract.

Unbeknownst to him, Nemorino has just inherited a fortune due to the death of his relative (yes, toys have relatives too—that's how accessories get handed down). Gianetta has heard the news first and spreads the gossip among the toys. Nemorino is, initially, confused by all this attention but he gives the credit to his Elixir of Love. Even Dulcamara starts to believe in the power of the juice box.

Adina is shocked. How did Nemorino become the most eligible toy in town?

Seeing other toys flirt with Nemorino unlocks Adina's true feelings for him, and she decides to win him back. Dulcamara, seeing an opportunity, offers his elixir of love to Adina. She sharply turns him down, reminding him that she already possesses everything she needs.

Nemorino, finally alone, hopes his dream love may come true. Adina appears and confesses her feelings. To prove her love, Adina has bought Nemorino's recruitment contract. He is free to do as he pleases. The rest of the toys celebrate the new couple. Belcore, sadly, is out a bride—but Dulcamara has earned the respect of the toys with his powerful elixir of love.

OPERA AT MANHATTAN SCHOOL OF MUSIC

Manhattan School of Music opera productions have been praised as a significant contribution to operatic life in New York City, and numerous performances have been released as commercial recordings. Opera is a significant feature of the vocal performance experience at MSM. All voice students participate in ensembles, and opera experience is available through a rich variety of opera related programs and courses.

Graduate students develop their artistry under the guidance of eminent artist teachers, while gaining exposure before New York City audiences through the many performance opportunities MSM offers. Productions each year include two full operas with orchestra on the Neidorff-Karpati stage; a new fall opera scenes series; a new fall chamber opera-level production; a fall Opera Workshop to hone audition and professional skills; a new spring Opera in Concert collaboration with the MSM Symphony Orchestra; a workshop of a new work or a workshop performance of a one-act opera; and a Musical Theatre Lab.

Juniors and seniors participate in a fall opera scenes program that explores a wide variety of styles and languages while developing important artistic and collaborative skills. In the spring, they audition to appear in a fully staged production with chamber orchestra, or in a one-act opera or cabaret-style performance with piano.

THE CENTENNIAL PROJECT / NEIDORFF-KARPATI HALL RENOVATION

The Centennial Project was an ambitious program of improvements to the School's architecturally distinguished campus coinciding with MSM's 100th anniversary. The centerpiece of the Project was the renovation of Neidorff-Karpati Hall, which has been transformed into a state-of-the-art venue to showcase our talented students. The Project also included a dramatic and welcoming new campus entrance on Claremont Avenue, new practice rooms, and an expansion of the main entryway and lobby.

ABOUT MANHATTAN SCHOOL OF MUSIC

Founded as a community music school by Janet Daniels Schenck in 1918, today MSM is recognized for its more than 1,000 superbly talented undergraduate and graduate students who come from more than 50 countries and nearly all 50 states; its innovative curricula and world-renowned artist-teacher faculty that includes musicians from the New York Philharmonic, the Met Orchestra, and the top ranks of the jazz and Broadway communities; and a distinguished community of accomplished, award-winning alumni working at the highest levels of the musical, educational, cultural, and professional worlds.

The School is dedicated to the personal, artistic, and intellectual development of aspiring musicians, from its Precollege students through those pursuing doctoral studies. Offering classical, jazz, and musical theatre training, MSM grants a range of undergraduate and graduate degrees. True to MSM's origins as a music school for children, the Precollege Division is a professionally oriented Saturday music program dedicated to the musical and personal growth of talented young musicians ages 8 to 18. The School also serves some 2,000 New York City schoolchildren through its Arts-in-Education Program, and another 2,000 students through its critically acclaimed Distance Learning Program.

Your gift helps a young artist reach for the stars!

To enable Manhattan School of Music to continue educating and inspiring generations of talented students and audiences alike, please consider making a charitable contribution today.

Land Acknowledgment

We want to acknowledge that we gather as Manhattan School of Music on the traditional land of the Lenape and Wappinger past and present, and honor with gratitude the land itself and the people who have stewarded it throughout the generations. This calls us to commit to continuing to learn how to be better stewards of the land we inhabit as well.

What Will Your Legacy Be?

Through a bequest or other planned gift, you can help to ensure that Manhattan School of Music will provide a music education of the highest quality to exceptionally talented young artists for generations to come while also strengthening the School's long-term financial health.

Bequests are one of the easiest ways to create a living legacy and to help MSM meet important priorities, including increasing our scholarship endowment and supporting our world-class faculty.

For further information and to join our Galaxy Society, which honors those who have committed to making a planned gift to the School, please contact Susan Madden, Vice President for Philanthropy, at 917-493-4115, or visit: msmnyc.edu/galaxy-society.

Help a young artist reach for the stars!
